National milk day

Friday, November 26, 2021, marks the 100th birth anniversary of Dr Verghese Kurien, who is also known as the 'Father of White Revolution' in the country. Every year since 2014, Kurien's birth anniversary has been observed as the National Milk Day.

National milk day theme 2021

In 2021, our theme focused on Sustainability in the dairy sector. Messages around the environment, nutrition and socio-economics helped re-introduce dairy farming to the world. We encouraged videos from farmers and others who are embracing technology to help create a low-carbon future for dairy.

National Milk Day 2021 Marks The 100th Birth Anniversary Of The Milkman Of India

Every year, on the 26th of November, the country celebrates National Milk day, which is a day to celebrate the birth anniversary of Dr. Verghese Kurien. Dr Kurien, who is also known as the "Milkman of India", came up with the White Revolution in India. With a visionary community-based business model, his organization saw pathbreaking success. And, it's been an upward trajectory for the brand ever since. Amul marked the 100th birth anniversary today with a signature cartoon illustration. Featuring the Amul girl, Dr Kurien and a glass of milk, the cartoon read, "100/100 always." It added, "Celebrating Dr Kurien's 100th birth anniversary."

Introduction

People know dairy foods are an important source of nutrients for growing children and teens. Milk and other dairy foods, however, are great sources of protein, calcium and vitamins for people in all walks of life, including adults, seniors and athletes. Dairy products are loaded with essential vitamins and minerals, including carbohydrates, protein, calcium, phosphorus, potassium, vitamins A, D, B12, riboflavin and niacin.

Just one 8-ounce serving of milk has 8 grams of protein, which builds and repairs muscle tissue (an equal serving of almond beverage has only 1 gram of protein). One serving of milk also meets the daily values (DV) for the following nutrients (based on Food and Drug Administration guidelines)

- Calcium (25 percent): Helps build and maintain strong bones and teeth
- Riboflavin (35 percent): Supports body growth, red blood cell production and metabolism
- Phosphorus (20 percent): Strengthens bones
- Vitamin D (15 percent): Helps promote the absorption of calcium
- Pantothenic Acid (20 percent): Helps convert food into energy
- Potassium (8 percent): Regulates fluid balance and helps maintain normal blood pressure
- Vitamin A (15 percent): Promotes good vision and healthy skin
- Niacin (10 percent): Promotes proper circulation

Milk Importance

Cow's milk is a significant source of protein, vitamin D, vitamin A, and calcium, as well as other essential nutrients. Many experts associate diets containing dairy with a lower risk of cardiovascular disease, type 2 diabetes, and high blood pressure.

The nutrient profile of milk supports bone health. Dairy products may prevent osteoporosis and bone fractures and even help you maintain a healthy weight.

Consuming milk everyday makes your skin glowing and supple, it also aids in getting a good night's sleep – a serious necessity in our stressful lives. Regular consumption of milk helps build muscles, reduces stress, betters eyesight and even lowers the risk of developing high blood pressure and cholesterol.

Researchers have also found

- Postmenopausal women who consume a diet low in protein and/or calcium were associated have an increased risk of osteoporotic fractures.
- Low-protein diets may decrease intestinal calcium absorption and are associated with reduced bone mass in most observational studies.
- Eating foods rich in calcium may offset a possible protein-calcium loss relationship, improving overall bone health.
